AND NOW, WE

SOAR.

The President's Report
2021-2022 Academic Year Review

With FlightPath
in place for its
first full year,
our students are THRIVING.

In this, our 225th year, we have the good fortune to both look back with pride on all we have achieved, and to look ahead with optimism at all that our students are preparing to accomplish.

Our future-focused approach to education started with the understanding that the best way to help students take flight on their own was to create a stronger sense of belonging. So we created and formalized new ways to belong: to campus, to peers, to mentors, to alumni, and to the world.

We also understood that each student needed their own map, one that would grow and adapt with them throughout their Hartwick experience, and beyond. What follows is a snapshot of how much progress we've made in a short time, and how our Hawks are beginning to soar.

“Here on Oyaron Hill, you look out to the world. You know that everything is ahead of you, and this is where you take your first steps.”
